General information regarding interchange rates:

Information about interchange rates in the above table is not included. That is because payment processors do not publicly list the interchange rates because they can vary greatly depending on numerous factors such as card type, transaction size, and the specific agreement between the payment processor and the card networks (Visa, MasterCard, Amex, etc.).

Credit card networks set interchange fees, typically comprising a percentage of the transaction amount plus a fixed fee. They can vary based on factors like the type of business making the sale, how the transaction is processed (in person or online), the type of card used (credit, debit, reward, corporate, etc.), and even the specific credit card network.

Interchange rate information is available to QuickBooks customers with assistance from Peak Advisers.
